Sea Captain Tungsten Edition

Bentley releases a new special Tungsten edition into the Sea Captain range of diving watches, this particular model lineup is described by Bentley as the first foray into a class of watches designed specifically for dive and water sport enthusiasts. The Bentley Sea Captain collection infuses remarkable Bentley watchmaking expertise and unprecedented material advancements; the models purport a distinct sporty elegance and applauded as a great edition to the Bentley family of fine timepieces.

The new model is equipped with tungsten metal uni-directional bezel, sitting on a stainless steel case designed anew to accommodate the rotating bezel. Elapsed dive timer markings made of pure white ceramic are inserted into the tungsten metal flush with the bezel surface, achieving an high degree of precision in craft. The Sea Captain tungsten editions have an array of movement choice, including a chronograph, and a mechanical model equipped with ETA 2824-2 Movement. Sapphire crystal glass with nine layers of anti-reflective treatment domes over the meticulously finish dial, and the glass virtually eliminates any surface glare and ensures protection in inclement conditions. The mechanical model is described to have 200 meters water resistant, and doubles the standard models.
